

Theatres & Decontamination Conference

Decontamination & clinical users working together to improve effectiveness, safety & patient experience

Wednesday 8th March 2017, Ricoh Arena, Coventry

RICOH ARENA
Sport | Business | Entertainment

The event programme will focus on driving improvements in patient safety and efficiency — from the application of human factors; to tackling key challenges in decontamination, such as post-operation instrument treatment.

"We were surprised to find that some of the problems we face are often the same across the whole country, and to be able to come together and discuss is great. We enjoyed the conference in march too, very informative. We were so surprised at the content in the first two presentations, we felt we had to try to introduce the duck bags into our working day!!"

Operating Theatres Benchmarking Group Member 2015-16 Senior Operating Department Practitioner & Theatre Coordinator, Dartford & Gravesham NHS Trust Hospital

Why Attend? Are you enthusiastic about training and networking opportunities? Do you need to prepare your cost savings for CQC? Maybe you could use some advice on managing a change in your department? If so, then this conference will be beneficial to you. This one day conference is aimed at NHS Managers and Leads in Theatres, Sterile Services and Decontamination. It provides an opportunity to hear key presentations on current issues, a chance to meet other key stakeholders who work towards patient safety and hear from those who have ideas to share from different areas within the industry encouraging working hand-in-hand for better patient safety and experience.

You can tailor the day to suit you with breakout sessions and there will also be access to an exhibition during break times.
